

Do not drop the rules that limit media ownership. There is not enough diversity in the media: the distinct voice of regionalism is getting buried underneath the corporate conglomerates who are swallowing up the smaller outlets.